

Pennsylvania Lumber Museum

5660 US Route 6, Ulysses Twp, PA 16948
Potter County

814-435-2652
palumbermuseum@gmail.com
<http://lumbermuseum.org>

The Pennsylvania Lumber Museum serves its diverse community by actively working to preserve and share the history of Pennsylvania's forests, inspiring our audience to become better stewards of Pennsylvania's forest resources and heritage.

Video Title: Life in a Pennsylvania Lumber Camp

Run Time: 5:13

Keywords: lumber industry, foodways, railroad, trades, wood hick, jobber, cook, cookie, saw filer, blacksmith, teamster, Barnhart log loader

Find Out More: Huntly, George (1936), A Story of the Sinnamahone; Taber, Thomas T. (2006), Oral Memoirs of Eastern United States Logging

Pennsylvania Trails of History
PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL & MUSEUM COMMISSION

Pennsylvania
Lumber
Museum

Video Title: The Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) in Pennsylvania

Run Time: 3:53

Keywords: Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), Franklin Roosevelt, Great Depression, forest management, state parks, recreation

Find Out More: Marcum, W. (2019). The Foreman's Boys: The Story of Civilian Conservation Corps, Company 1333, Camp S-63, Poe Valley. Mechanicsburg, PA: Sunbury Press, Inc.; Speakman, J. M. (2006). At Work in Penn's Woods: The Civilian Conservation Corps in Pennsylvania. University Park, Pennsylvania: The Pennsylvania State University Press.; Brinkley, D. (2016). Rightful Heritage: Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Land of America. New York, NY: HarperCollins Publishers.

Video Title: The Pennsylvania Lumber Museum Sawmill

Run Time: 3:29

Keywords: Industrial history, sawmill, steam engine, steam boiler, belt-driven machinery, sawyer, lumber production

Find Out More: Defebaugh, James E. (1907), History of the Lumber Industry of America (information for Pennsylvania begins on page 517); Hanlon, Howard (1960), The Ball-Hooter: From the Forests They Felled, Cities Grew.

Pennsylvania Trails of History
PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL & MUSEUM COMMISSION

Pennsylvania
Lumber
Museum